FESTERING SORES.

The most repulsive sores and eruptions are instantly re-lieved from irritation and quickly removed from the skin. HOW RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT CURES CONSUMPTION.

To cure Consumption we must stop decay and rebuild and heal the worn-out organs of the system that disease has con-we must treat every organ in the system, for the Lungs are not the only organs affected. It affects the Liver, the Heart, the Kidneys, Bladder, and Pancreas; and, in fact, every organ in the body is more or less tainted with decomposition and decay.

THE LUNGS

ARE THE BREATHING APPARATUS OF THE SYSTEM.
When the Lungs are in a state of decay they are unable to receive or emit the necessary amount of air requisite to sustain life. The greater the atmospheric pressure upon the air-cells, the more painful, irritable, and sufficiently is the weight upon the lungs.

MARRIAGE. MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Marke of the Revell College of Surgeons, London, Gradu-

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduste from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing curse that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervourness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solidary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dinness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General bebility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsis, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating ion! Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE.

should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hearly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religibate confide in his bonor as a Gentleman, and may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician. TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guaranty that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable

TAKE NOTICE. It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so. he afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fall int the hands of those imprudent, boasting impostors—individ-uals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pediars, shoemakers, mechanics, &c., advertising themselves as physicians; ignorant queeks, who keep you trifling mouth after mouth, as long as possible, and in despair leave you with ruined health to sigh over your galling disappointment. It is this motive alone that induces Dr. J. to advertise, for healone can cure you. To those unacquainted with his reputation he deems it necessary to say, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his Office.

The Chillicothe Fire.

CINCINNATI, April 6. The total loss by the Chillicothe fire was $600, 000. The losses sustained by insurance companies are as follows: "Ætna," Hartford, Conn., $108,000: "Protection." $75,000: "Ohio Mutual," $2,500; "Franklin," Philadelphia, $28, 000; "Cincinnati City," $5,000; "Cincinnati Eagle," $5,000; "Franklin," New York, $12,000; "Hudson River," New York, $2,000.

Fatal Case of Poisoning.

PITTSBURG, April 6. A poor family named Cuthbert, consisting of a father and mother, their two boys, a girl, and a boy living with them, named John Cawley, were poisoned last night by partaking of some sugar at supper into which poison had dropped from an upper shelf, where papers of medicine had been left by a previous tenant of the house. Medical assistance was rendered, but, in spite of all efforts to save them, the two sons died this morning. It was hoped that the others would recover. The coroner's jury suppose the poison to have been arsenic or tartar emetic.

Non-Intervention - Speech of Senator Jones.

We give place to the following letter from the Baltimore Clipper, in compliance with the request of its author. We would remark, however, that the great temperance orator and statesman needs no words of praise. The people are seldom slow to appreciate such a man, and the voice of defamation is powerless to assail him. With the allusions of the writer to Senators Cass and Seward we have nothing to do:

Washington, April 3, 1852.

MESSES. EDITORS: The new-fangled doctrine of "non-intervention," so ably advocated by the great Hungarian, and so blindly adopted by certain "great guns" of the New York press, seems doomed to a brief and sickly existence. Indeed, we may say that that "snake" is already not only "scotched," but "killed." Whether taken in the broad, frank, and bold acceptation in which it is put by the noble Magyar, or in the miti-gated sense conveyed by the resolutions of the honorable Senator from Michigan, intervention, it is now plain, finds no favor with the people of

One of the most powerful and effective blows by which this monster has fallen was adminis-tered in the Senate a week or two since by the able and eloquent Senator from Tennessee, Ex-Governor Jones. His speech on that occasion is cknowledged, by all who had the good fortune to hear it, to have been one of the best to which those old walls have resounded this many a lay. As a "maiden speech" it electrified even the elder members of that dignified body, and carried with it a full share of that magnetic power which cannot be transferred to paper, and of which no printed report can give an adequate idea. At any rate, it has at once won for the young and gifted Senator from Tennessee an enviable position in the highest council of the nation, and given him a "leverage" which may be turned to he great advantage of his constituents and of the country at large.

The report of that speech has already gone to the four quarters of the republic, and, though containing many typographical blunders which do no credit to the printer, it has everywhere elicited the warmest plaudits, as well for the nany bursts of genuine eloquence as for its soundness of its principles. What appears particularly to excite the admiration of the country are the specimens of gladiatorial skill displayed y Governor Jones in his encounters with Messrs. Cass and Seward. There is, indeed, something striking, if not sublime, in witnessing with what apparent ease this young and inexperienced Senator meets and overcomes such veterans as the practised and ponderous athlete of Michigan, and the lithe and supple short-swordsman of New York. They went down before him as if stricken by a glance from their own "manifest destiny." Cass, indeed, was the only one who made any fight at all; and he, like General Taylor, did not eem to know when he was whipped, until the closing rejoinder, when the Tennessean's trench-ant blade again passed through and through him, and left "the great Michigander" prone on the

"--- his back to the field, and his feet to the foe!" The gifts of some men are wonderful to behold! One of the secrets of Gov. Jones's power and invariable success in debate, perhaps, lies in the wondrously concentrated, singleminded momenum with which he hurls himself on his adversary. Whether on the stump or in the Senate Chamber, this momentum—the lightning-like rapidity with which he attacks in front, flank and rear; the brilliant flashes of eloquence constantly breaking out and blinding the enemy while the stunning blows fall from his stalwart arm like rain-whether before the people or in the grand arena of sen-atorial strife, this strange gift of momentum power-force-call it what you will-is equally resistless, and has never failed to win him the cictory against all odds and from the very decrees of Fate herself.

The great and leading characteristic of Gov.

Jones's career hitherto has been his readiness and ability on the instant to grapple with, and ise superior to, any emergency that might occur He seems to have within him a native, untaught, unacquired power, which, whenever occasion offers, forces him up to a level with-nav. always above—the oldest heads, the brightest intellects, the strongest arms, with which he may be brought into antagonism. Scarcely yet in his fortieth year, he has won twice as many victories on the tump and in the forum as any other man of his ige in the Union. Of a tall, lithe, "lean" form. weighing but little above a hundred pounds, but glowing with health, and as well knit as an In dian runner, his frame is equal to the severest and most protracted labor, and is animated with vital energy enough for three such men. Possessing in early youth comparatively limited advantages of education, since his attainment to manhood he has been busily storing his mind from all the garners of knowledge, and now, with his unresting zeal, tircless industry, and indom-itable resolution, scarcely feels the want of those adventitious aids to mental culture so difficult to be obtained in Tennessee twenty-five years ago. and which, indeed, are amply compensated for by a combination of natural gifts amounting in him to genius. Add to all these a noble mien and lofty dignity of carriage, a gay and winning address, a bland and manly courtesy-as bland and free among the farmers of the hills and valleys of Tennessee as in the saloons of the greatas frank and hearty among the poor as among the rich, with the young as with the old-and you have the portrait of one of the most remarkable men of the age, the conqueror of Polk, the Clin ton of the South.

Such is the man who from his place the other day in the Senate, in a speech of singular elo quence and power, and which I commend to the perusal of all my countrymen, sent the last murderous broadside into "the long, low, rakish Cass. And such the man who, sooner or later (it may be sooner than we think,) will be called on to assume the helm and guide the destinies of
